

Clinical Psychology Graduate Students:

- Are you a member of APA?
- If so, did you know that your membership in APA automatically entitles you to membership in the Graduate Student organization of APA – APAGS?

With more than several thousand members, APAGS is one of the largest constituency groups of the APA, as well as the largest organized group of psychology graduate students worldwide.

Consider joining or even taking up a leadership role in APAGS – this is a wonderful opportunity to further your development as a psychologist by connecting with colleagues and learning helpful tools for successfully navigating graduate school and your career in clinical psychology.

Membership in APA and APAGS entitles you to many benefits that will aid your training in psychology, including:

- Subscriptions to the American Psychologist, Monitor on Psychology, and the APAGS magazine, gradPSYCH.
- A $10 credit for subscriptions to APA Journals.
- Listservs targeted to a variety of student interests.
- Internship and career resources such as the comprehensive book, Internships in Psychology (APA, 2005), Internship Listserv, APAGS Internship Workshops, and PscCAREERS.com.
- Scholarships and awards available to graduate student members of APAGS who are enrolled at least halftime as a student in good standing at a regionally accredited university.
- Information resources created by and for students such as:
 - APAGS Survival Guide for Ethnic Minority Graduate Students
 - Resource Guide for Psychology Graduate Students with Disabilities
 - Prescription Privileges Fact Sheet: What Students Should Know About the APA's Pursuit of Prescription Privileges for Psychologists
 - Networking Guide for Students within State, Provincial, and Territorial Psychological Associations
 - Mentoring, Balance and Self-Care – Especially for Women: A Collection of Articles and Resources
